

COMMON CHARACTERISTICS OF Nine-Year-Olds

The enthusiasm of eight often turns into brooding and worrying at nine. Nines tend to be critical of the world around them—nothing seems fair to a nine-year-old. But nine can also be a time of budding intellectual curiosity. Children this age look hard for explanations of how things work and why things happen as they do.

S O C I A L

- Very competitive, yet may form cliques
- Complain a lot; criticize self and others (including adults)
- Often say "I hate it," "I can't," "It's boring," etc.
- Like to work with same-gender partner
- Can work in groups but with lots of arguing
- Enjoy exaggeration, "dirty" jokes, and graffiti
- Need adults to be patient and explain clearly
- Need adult lightheartedness, humor, and encouragement to lighten their mood and relieve anxiety

P H Y S I C A L

- Coordination is better; boys love to rough-house
- Like to push physical limits; get tired easily
- Complain about aches, pains, and injuries
- Restless; can't sit still for long
- May bite nails or twist hair to relieve tension

C O G N I T I V E

- Worry about world events, parents' health, friends, school, etc.
- Work hard and pay attention to detail, but may jump quickly between interests
- Less imaginative than at eight years old
- Want factual explanations; enjoy scientific exploration
- Have trouble understanding abstractions such as large numbers, long periods of time, and vast areas of space
- Love language and word play
- Begin to see the bigger world, including issues of justice and fairness
- Enjoy "interest" clubs such as stamp collecting, chess, or rock collecting clubs

COMMON CHARACTERISTICS OF Ten-Year-Olds

Ten-year-olds are generally happy and relaxed, enjoying themselves and their peers, parents, even siblings. Proud of all they have accomplished, they like to share their knowledge with others. Tens usually do well with group projects because they tend to be calm and naturally cooperative.

S O C I A L

- Good age for clubs, team sports, and whole-class activities
- Eager to reach out to others, such as through community service or tutoring younger children
- Boys and girls work well together
- Quick to anger and quick to forgive
- Competitive but also cooperative
- Listen well but also enjoy talking and explaining
- Enjoy adult recognition

P H Y S I C A L

- Muscles for jumping, running, and other big movements are developing quickly
- Need lots of outdoor play and physical challenges
- Snacks and rest periods help rapidly growing bodies
- Better at small muscle movements; enjoy precision tasks such as tracing and copying
- Ready to start using tools such as compasses, rulers, and templates

C O G N I T I V E

- Very good at memorizing facts
- Enjoy collecting, organizing, and classifying
- Like rules and logic; open to learning about scientific principles, governmental structures, and meeting formats
- Can concentrate on reading and thinking for long periods
- Hardworking; take pride in schoolwork
- Enjoy choral reading, poetry, plays, and singing
- Open to learning mediation or problem-solving skills

COMMON CHARACTERISTICS OF Eleven-Year-Olds

Elevens are going through huge changes in their bodies, minds, and social behavior as they begin adolescence. The easy friendliness of ten often gives way to awkward, sometimes rude behavior at eleven. With their growing capacity for higher thinking, children this age like to try work that feels grown up, such as researching and interviewing.

S O C I A L

- Moody, self-absorbed
- Easily embarrassed; need to "save face" in front of peers
- Sensitive about their changing bodies
- Need lots of time to talk with peers
- Common age for girls to form cliques
- Worry about who's "in" and who's "out"
- Like to challenge rules, argue, and test limits
- Need adult empathy, humor, and light attitude to help them take things less seriously

P H Y S I C A L

- Restless and very energetic
- Need lots of food, physical activity, and sleep
- Growth spurt for many girls; some begin menstruating
- "Growing pains" (bone outgrowing muscle) may cause nightly aches and daily complaints
- More colds, ear infections, flu, etc.

C O G N I T I V E

- Can think abstractly—for example, more able to understand ideas such as "justice"
- Beginning to challenge adult explanations and their own assumptions
- Would rather learn new skills than review or improve previous work
- Enjoy using their developing thinking skills to do brain teasers and puzzles
- Like "adult" tasks (researching, interviewing, footnoting, etc.) and "adult" studies (history, biography, etc.), though may outwardly fuss while secretly enjoying the work
